GF ASIA INCOME FUND

KEY INVESTOR
INFORMATION
DOCUMENT

This document provides you with key investor information about this Fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this Fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

Liontrust GF Asia Income Fund is a sub-fund of Liontrust Global Funds plc. This document is based upon the B4 USD Accumulating share class (ISIN: IE00BVYTZW85), which is the representative class for all other classes.

Objective

- To provide investors with a high level of income with long-term capital appreciation. The Fund invests in Asia Pacific ex-Japan companies, aiming to deliver both a prospective yield at least 1.1 times that of the regional markets and long-term capital appreciation.

Policy

- The Fund may invest anywhere in the world but will primarily invest in companies listed in or active in Asia Pacific including Australasia but excluding Japan.
- There are no restrictions in the choice of investments in terms of size of company or the industry it trades in.
- The Fund may use financial derivative instruments for investment purposes and for efficient portfolio management (including hedging). The Fund may take positions in derivatives to manage cash flows and to gain exposure to equities more efficiently.
- Where investments are held in a currency other than the base currency, the exposure to currency risk may be minimised by hedging.
- Income from the Fund's investments may either be paid to you or reinvested in the Fund depending on whether you choose an accumulating or distributing class.
- The Fund has both Hedged and Unhedged share classes available. The Hedged share classes use forward foreign exchange contracts to protect returns in the base currency of the Fund.

Recommendation

- This Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 5 years.

How to buy

- You may buy or sell shares on a daily basis (but not weekends or Bank Holidays). Orders must be received by 11.59am (Irish time) for execution at 12.00 midday valuation point. Further details can be found at www.liontrust.co.uk.

Investment process

- The investment process is based on the premise that any single investment style is unlikely to deliver consistent outperformance when investing in Asian equities. This is because the region is subject to business and economic cycles despite attempts to dampen them by both governments and central banks. Returns generated by different asset classes and styles of equity investment substantially differ through the business cycle.
- The secret to successful investing in Asia, therefore, is to choose the style of investment to suit the particular point in the cycle.
- There are four main stages to the investment process:
 - identifying the key drivers for Asian equities;
 - incorporating these into a framework to determine the likely beneficiaries and losers of these drivers and to identify appropriate valuation methods;
 - fundamental stock analysis to identify individual companies that will benefit the most from the drivers; and
 - portfolio construction.
- The process is iterative, in that the information gleaned from management and corporate analysis is as important to the framework as it is to the final stock selection.

Risk and reward profile

- This Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator (SRRI) is based on historical data and may not be relied upon to gauge the future risk profile of the Fund.
- The SRRI shown is not guaranteed to remain the same and may shift over time.
- The lowest category (1) does not mean 'risk free'.
- The Fund's risk and reward category has been calculated using the methodology set by the European Commission. It is based upon the rate by which the Fund or a representative fund or index's value has moved up and down in the past.
- The Fund is categorised 5 primarily for its investments in companies in the Asia Pacific (ex-Japan) region.
- The SRRI may not fully take into account the following risks:
 - that a company may fail thus reducing its value within the Fund;
 - any company which has high overseas earnings may carry a higher currency risk;
 - overseas investments may carry a higher currency risk. They are valued by reference to their local currency which may move up or down when compared to the currency of the Fund.
- The Fund may invest in derivatives. The use of derivatives may create leverage or gearing resulting in potentially greater volatility or fluctuations in the net asset value of the Fund. A relatively small movement in the value of a derivative's underlying investment may have a larger impact, positive or negative, on the value of a fund than if the underlying investment was held instead. The use of derivative contracts may help us to control Fund volatility in both up and down markets by hedging against general market movements.
- The Fund invests in emerging markets which carries a higher risk than investment in more developed countries. This may result in higher volatility and larger drops in the value of the fund over the short term.
- The Fund has both Hedged and Unhedged share classes available. The Hedged share classes use forward foreign exchange contracts to protect returns in the base currency of the Fund.
- Counterparty risk: any derivative contract, including FX hedging, may be at risk if the counterparty fails.

- For full details of the Fund's risks, please see the prospectus which may be obtained from Liontrust (address overleaf) or online at www.liontrust.co.uk.
